Writing Worksheet

Use the worksheet below to find your character, figure out their story, think about where they live, and discover the beginning and end of their story.

Character

Your character is the heart of your story. Use this space to write down the following:

Name, Problem, Deep Want, Need, Traits, Family, Friends, Looks

Plot

Your plot is what happens in the story. It is driven by your character's problem and their deep want and need. Use the space under each section to jot notes about what happens.

Inciting Incident

Midpoint

All Is Lost

Climax

Setting

Your setting helps the reader experience your story. Use this space to make notes about WHERE and WHEN this story happens. What will your characters SMELL, HEAR, FEEL, TASTE?

Beginning

Where is your character at the beginning of their story?

Ending

Where do you want your character to end up? Hint: You may want to start here.